

MEDIA ADVISORY

June 7, 2018

Kelowna Chamber Hosts BC's "Top Cop" Deputy Commissioner to speak about RCMP, Crime Trends & Public Safety in Kelowna

Kelowna: From the Tr'ondëk Hwëch'in Han Nation in the Yukon Territory where Deputy Commissioner Brenda Butterworth-Carr was raised, to the streets of British Columbia where she began her career as an RCMP Native Special Constable in 1987, Butterworth-Carr's policing experience spans 30 years and four provinces and territories.

The Kelowna Chamber is hosting BC's "Top Cop" at its final luncheon of the season on Friday June 15 at the Coast Capri Hotel in Kelowna.

Deputy Commissioner Butterworth-Carr will share the facts on how the RCMP are approaching crime trends and public safety. In showcasing the BC RCMP policing plan, she will explain in detail what they are committed to doing in the province, and the issues which impact cities like Kelowna and neighbouring communities. She will outline her vision, the commitments the RCMP are making and how communities and business can play a role.

Butterworth-Carr, the first woman in the role as Deputy Commissioner in E District in BC says, "I will provide insight into 'Your BC RCMP' – where we have come from and where we are going. Finally, I want to remove the cloud of perceptions vs. realities of how the RCMP are approaching crime trends and public safety."

Media are encouraged to attend: the event begins at 11:30 am with registration, and luncheon promptly at 12:00 p.m., ending at 1:30 after the keynote and Q&A. Please advise if you plan to attend, and we are pleased to have you join us for lunch, as well.

Media may pre-register with:

Diana Dors
Member Engagement, Kelowna Chamber
250-469-7352/diana@kelownachamber.org

For more information:

Dan Rogers, Executive Director
Kelowna Chamber of Commerce
250-469-7356/dan@kelownachamber.org